

Judge Todd Sponseller has served as a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, 39th Judicial District since January of 2016. His current areas of assignment are family court, criminal, civil litigation and appeal from the suspension of drivers' licenses.

Judge Sponseller is a native of Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, the eldest son of the late Dr. Edwin and Suzanne Sponseller (née Slaybaugh). He graduated from Chambersburg Area Senior High School and then Shippensburg University with a Bachelor's in History. He earned his J.D. from West Virginia University in 1999 and then enjoyed a career as an insurance defense attorney that lasted more than a decade and allowed him to practice throughout the State of West Virginia and in Ohio and Virginia via pro hac vice admission. Judge Sponseller returned to Franklin County in 2010 to marry his wife Laura Sponseller (née Nicklas), also a Chambersburg native. After obtaining admission to practice in Pennsylvania, he was a solo practitioner concentrating primarily in the areas of criminal defense, family law and civil litigation, and served on the boards of directors of several local charity and community organizations.

Judge Sponseller enjoys traveling, golf, skiing, music, cooking, reading, a variety of podcasts, cycling, and fishing. He and Laura have two children Cooper (21) and Emmeline (13) and two black Labradors, Scout (7) and Ruby Sue (2).
